SOLDIERS' HEALTH.

Interesting Suggestions and Recommendations The following article, on "Soldiers' Health," s from Hall's New York Journal of Health. t contains much valuable information for both oldiers and civilians: 1. In an ordinary campaign sickness disables r destroys three times as many as the sword. 2. On a march, from April to November, the entire clothing should be a colored flannel shirt, with a loosely-buttoned collar, cotton drawers woolen pantaloons, shoes and stockings, and a light-colored felt hat, with broad brim to protect the eyes and face from the glare of the sun and from the rain, and a substantial but not heavy coat when off duty.

3. Sun stroke is most effectually prevented by wearing a silk handkerchief in the crown of the

4. Colored blankets are best, and if lined with brown drilling the warmth and durability are doubled, while the protection against dampness from lying on the ground is almost complete. 5. Never lie or sit down on the grass or bare earth for a moment; rather use your hat-a handkerchief, even, is a great protection. The warmer you are the greater need for this pro tection, as a damp vapor is immediately generated, to be absorbed by the clothing, and to cool you off too rapidly.

6. While marching, or on other active duty, the more thirsty you are, the more essential is it to safety of life itself, to rinse out the mouth two or three times, and then take a swollow of water at a time, with short intervals. A brave

French general, on a forced march, fell dead on the instant, by drinking largely of cold water, when snow was on the ground.
7. Abundant sleep is essential to bodily efficiency, and to that alertness of mind which is all-important in an engagement; and few things more certainly and more effectually prevent sound sleep than eating heartily after sundown, especially after a heavy murch or despesate battle. 8. Nothing is more certain to secure endu rance and capability of long-continued effort, than the avoidance of everything as a drink except cold water, nor excluding coffee at break-fast. Drink as little as possible, of even cold

9. After any sort of exhausting effort, a cup of the strength, until nature begins to recover herself.

10. Never eat heartily just before a great undertaking, because the nervous power is irre-sistibly drawn to the stomach to manage the food eaten, thus drawing off that supply which the brain and muscles so much need.

11. If persons will drink brandy, it is incomparably safer to do so after an effort than before; how long any given effort is to be kept in con-for it can give only a transient strength, lasting but a few minutes; but as it can never be known tinuance, and if longer than a few minutes, the body becomes more feeble than it would have been without the stimulus, it is clear that its use before an effort is always hazardous, and s always unwise.

Here are upwards of a hundred thousand words—good, bad and indifferent—whose multifarious meanings and derivations, together with their correct spelling and pronunciation, are set clearly before the eye. The work is unquestionably the greatest Thesaurus of English Words ever published.

14. A cut is less dangerous than a bullet wound, and heals more rapidly.

15. If from any wound the blood spirts out in jets, instead of a steady stream, you will die in a few minutes, unless it is remedied; because an artery has been divided, and that takes the blood direct from the fountain of life. To stop this instantly, tie a handkerchief or other cloth very loosely serween the wound and the heart; put a stick, bayonet, or ramrod be-tween the skin and the hankerchief; and twist it around until the bleeding ceases, and keep it thus until the surgeon arrives.

16. If the blood flows in a slow, regular stream, a vein has been pierced, and the hand-kerchief must be on the other side of the wound from the heart; that is, below the wound.

17. Generally the person lives a day or two with perfect clearness of intellect, often not suffering greatly. The practical bearing of this statement in reference to the great future is clear.

18. Let the whole beard grow, but not longer than some three inches. This strengthens and thickens its growth, and thus makes a more perfect protection for the lungs against dust, and for the throat against winds and cold in winter, while in the summer a greater perspi-ration of the skin is induced, with an increase of evaporation; hence, greater coolness of the parts on the outside, while the throat is less everish, thirsty and dry.

19. Avoid fats and fat meats in summer au in all warm days. 20. Whenever possible, take a plunge into any lake or running stream every morning as soon as you get up; if none at hand, endeavor to soon as you get up; if none at hand, endeavor to wash the body all over as soon as you leave your bed, for personal cleanliness acts like a charm against all diseases, always either warding them off altegether or greatly mitigating their severity and shortening their duration.

21. Keep the hair of the head closely cut, say within an inch and a half of the scalp in every part, repeated on the first of each month, and wash the whole scalp plentifully in cold water every morning.

ter every morning.

22. Wear woolen stockings and moderately loose shoes, keeping the toe and finger-nails with a soldier's duty.

24. The most universally safe position after all stunnings, burts and wounds, is that of being placed on the back, the head being elevated three or four inches only, aiding more than any one thing else can do, to equalize and restore the proper circulation of the blood.

25. The more weary you are after a march or other work, the more easily will you take cold, if you remain still after it is over, unless, the moment you cease motion, you throw the cold, if you remain still after it is over, unless, the moment you cease motion, you throw the cold, if you remain still after it is over, unless, the moment you cease motion, you throw the cold of the cold o

26. The greatest physical kindness you can show a severely wounded comrade is first to place him on his back, and then run with all your might for some water to drink; not a second ought to be lost. If no vessel is at hand, take your hat; if no hat, off with your shirt, wring it out once, tie the arms in a knot, as also the lower end, thus making a bag, open at the neck only. when you have to use water for cooking or drinking from ponds or sluggish streams, boil it well, and when cool, shake it, or stir it, so that the oxygen of the six shall cat to it. that the oxygen of the air shall get to it, which greatly improves it for drinking. This boiling arrests the process of fermentation which arises from the presence of organic and inorganic impurities, thus tending to prevent cholera and all bowel diseases. It is next weighed, then properly mixed in a mixing trough with a wooden roller for three hours, and at some mills it is merely stirred about in a large tub for a short time; but when this is the case, more time is allowed for incorporating, which is the next process. The cylinders of most incorporating mills are two in number, and made of a very tough description of stone; they each weigh about three tuns. The bed of the mill on which they revolve is of the same material; but cylinders and beds of iron are also much paed. The chleston to local the local McLean's Volcanic Oil Lintment. much used. The charge which is placed in the mill at a time is 42 fbs., and it is moistened with 2 pints of water, which is placed in the mill with the charge; but this is varied according to the state of the atmosphere. At the end of three hours, the charge is withdrawn from the mill to be pressed either in a hydraulic or a powerful scraw press; it is separated at equal distances by plates of copper, so that a uniform pressure may be applied to the whole, which is about 600 tuns. When taken from the press it is in thin solid cakes or layers, called press it is in thin solid cakes or layers, called is always unwise.

12. Never go to sleep, especially after a great effort, even in hot weather, without some covering over you.

13. Under all circumstances, rather than lie down on the bare ground, lie in the hollow of blocks of lignumvites wood, which crush the powder between them and the sides of the sieve; two other sieves of different degrees of fineness are placed under the first, which catch the powder and separate it into fine and coarse grain, (for artillery and muskets) and the dust, or meal powder, falls into a box placed beneath. The powder is now glazed by being placed in a cask, which revolves on an axle through the entre about thirty times in a minute, which takes off all the corners of the grains and gives them a polish. The last process is drying, which is perform ed by steam, radiation from hot irons, or solar heat; it is sometimes again sifted before barreling, to clean it and prevent it from caking together. The pressing and glazing process, although they lessen the effective force of the powder, are absolutely necessary; first, to give the powder density, to prevent its breaking by carriage; second, to prevent its absorbing moist-ure from the atmosphere, which it is liable to do from the alkali which is in the charcoal; third, to prevent the powder losing its power when kept for any length of time. How the World is Governed.

There are about one hundred separately or ganized governments in the world at the present time. There are only four republics in Europe—Switzerland, San Marino, Montenegro, and Anderre. The three latter contain an aggregate population of not over 120,000 people Switzerland, secure in her mountain fastness, now, by common consent, left unmolested.

The governments of Asia are all absolute despotisms. Thibet has the name of being a hierarchy, but differs in no practical sense from In Africa, the Barbary States, and all the va rious negro tribes, of whatever name, are ruled despotically, except Liberia, which is republican, and may be an opening wedge of civiliza-tion on that continent. This experiment, with that of the Island of Hayti, would seem to indicate the capacity of the negro race for self government. The great Islands in the Southern and Pacific Oceans are mostly independent and despotic-such as Japan, with a population of twenty mil loose shoes, keeping the toe and finger-nails such as Japan, with a population of twenty millions, and Madagascar, containing about five millions. effectual Alterative that can be made. It is world, a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellowitizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AP-PECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEU-RALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYS-PEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE on St. Anthony's Frue, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, cruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is ob-structed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder lasting health. Sooner or later something life is disordered or overthrown. Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatev-er. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for elieving it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on

BELLINGHAM'S CELEBRATED Stimulating Onguent,

For the Whiskers and Hair

The subscribers take pleasure in announcing o the Citizens of the United States, that they have obtained the Agency for, and are now enabled to offer to the American public, the above justly celebrated and world-renowned article. The STIMULATING ONGUENT

s prepared by DR. C. P. BELLINGHAM, an emicent shysician of London, and is warranted to bring out a hick set of Whiskers or a Mustache in from three to wix weeks. This article is the only one of the kind used by the French, and to London and Paris it is in universal use.

It is a beautiful, economical, soothing, yet stimulating compound, soting as if by magic upon the roots, causing a beautiful growth of luxuriant hair. If applied to the scalp, it will cure BALDERSS, and cause to spring up in place of the bald spots a fine growth of new bair. Applied scoording to directions, it will turn RED or TOWN hair DARK, and restore gray hair to its original color, teaving it soft, smooth, and fexible. The "ORRUGERS" is an indispensable article in every gentleman's toiles, and after one week's use they would not for any consideration be without it.
